FORESTRY CONDITIONS

Are Being Made a Study in Clinton County

FOREST DEPARTMENT

Is Interested in Lands Now Covered With a Schrub Growth—To Promote Valuable Trees.

PROF. BAKER WILL SUBMIT PLANS

Saturday's Lock Haven Express gives the following interesting account of forestry investigation being made in Clinton county.

Professor Hugh Baker, head of the department of forestry of the Pennsylvania State College, was in Lock Haven Friday, having been sent here by the United States forestry service.

Professor Baker spent the day going over lands of the Queens Run Fire Brick company at Queens Run with a view to submitting plans whereby lands now covered by scrub growth of timber could be cared for in a way that would promote a growth of valuable trees and also laying out the planting of barren lands with young trees best suited to the soil and climatic conditions.

The tract under consideration comprises between 5,000 and 6,000 acres. Four to five hundred acres are at present clear of growth and the remaining land is overgrown with scrub growth that in its present condition is liable to destruction from forest fires or would be of little value unless properly cared for. Professor Baker will outline a plan whereby the desirable protection from fire will be secured and also direct the manner of cutting out the growth in a manner that will encourage the rapid growth of the valuable young trees.

Upon the barren land, Professor Baker will advise the planting of young trees, principally red oak, chestnut and in certain places, jack pine, much of this wood being desirable for mine timber and railroad work.

Professor Baker expressed particular pleasure that the Queens Run company had availed itself of the offer of the government to send a forester to map out this work, as he states that in no county in Pennsylvania has he found so great a proposition of devastated land that might be made to yield valuable timber growth as he has in Clinton county. He says that in southwestern and southeastern Pennsylvania much good has already been accomplished along this line and cited as prominent examples the work of replanting and thinning out which has recently been done by the H. C. Frick company and the Keystone Coal and Coke company.

All of the land left barren by the wasteful deforestation of past years when timber was cut as though the supply were inexhaustible might be once more converted into valuable timber lands by replanting and intelligent care. Professor Baker has had a wide experience as a forester, having spent much time in recent years in the work of restoring the forests throughout the country and principally in the western part of the United States, so that his opinion of conditions in Clinton county, which up to a few years ago depended entirely upon the lumber industry, is of especial interest.

Opening of the Opera Season.

The Garman opera house will be opened this season on Friday, September 11, when the John Dushore Co. will present "The Barber of Sevill," a comic opera in three acts. This is the first time this opera has been presented in America in English and is supported by a splendid company of artists. The company carries a specially augmented orchestra under the direction of Jacques Kingsbergen. The management feels confident that the opening opera will make a great hit with the Bellefonte lovers of the opera comique.

Minnie Krader.

Miss Minnie Krader died Monday night at the home of her sister Mrs. Frank P. Florey, near Tusseyville, aged twenty-eight years and six months. The deceased had been in ill health for a number of years, due to a complication of diseases. Funeral services were conducted Thursday morning by Rev. Haney and Rev. Caris. Interment was made in the Mountain cemetery about five miles east of Spring Mills.

THE WILLIAMS REUNION

Annual Gathering of this Family Occurred Saturday at Port Matilda.

The ninth annual reunion of the members and friends of the Williams families in Centre and adjoining counties was held in Beckwith's grove at Port Matilda Saturday last. The day was an ideal one and was conducive to a large attendance from all parts of the county. It is estimated that between 2,000 and 2,500 people were present.

The grove which is located on a hillside not far from the Bald Eagle valley passenger station, is thickly wooded and while it is somewhat rough and rocky these features add to its attractiveness as a place to get away from business and home cares. The grounds are obstructed by a muddy spot, but it has been asserted that this was convenient for the politicians who attended. However it is a very suitable place as it is centrally located for the Williams families.

The officers of the picnic association are: president, A. S. Williams; vice president, Abendigo Williams; secretary, Walter H. Williams; treasurer, G. G. Fink.

At 10 30 o'clock the president called the crowd to order. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. E. S. Bierly, of Port Matilda. G. W. Shires of Port Matilda welcomed the many visitors to the pleasure grounds and invited them to share with them in the outing. Rev. Earl K. Quimby of New Jersey, very ably responded to the welcome, giving his assurance that every one present would endeavor to get the best of occasion.

By this time everyone began to feel for the refreshing of the inner man and the large baskets were emptied of their contents and spread on bounteous tables where all could eat to their satisfaction. During this hour the members of the families and their friends vied with one another once more around the festive board.

The dinner being over the program was again taken up and addresses were made by Rev. Geo. W. Downing of Alexandria; Rev. Berger of Petersburg and Rev. G. A. Williams of Dickinson college, Carlisle. Following Rev. Downing's address Miss Minnie Hoover of Julian, recited a poem on "Taft," which elicited much applause and comment.

The Scotia band was present during the day and gave frequent concerts, their delightful music being much appreciated by all.

The Pennsylvania railroad company accomodated the picnickers by stopping their trains at the grounds to let off and take on passengers.

The reunion of Saturday was one of the most successful yet held by this association and every one present expressed themselves as having a royal good time.

Fox—Underwood

A very pretty wedding took place at Unionville Wednesday afternoon when Jacob Fox, of Mill Hall and Miss Susan Underwood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Underwood of Unionville, were united in marriage according to the Friends ceremony. Gilbert Underwood, a brother of the bride, acted as groomsman and Miss Anna Schroyer served as bridesmaid. The bride was attired in a handsome mull wedding gown while the groom wore the conventional black. About thirty guests, members of the families of the bride and groom and a few friends, were present to witness the marriage vows, which were performed at 5 30 o'clock. Following the wedding a supper was served and the young couple left on the evening train for a trip to Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at the home of the bride's parents.

The groom is a well known and successful young school teacher and has taught in the schools of Centre and Clinton counties. The bride is one of the accomplished young ladies of Unionville and has a host of friends who join in congratulating them upon this event.

Strong—Jones.

John R. Strong, a mason of Potters Mills, and Miss Mary Jones, of Boston, were married Monday evening by Rev. W. C. Rishel, of the Methodist church.

The bride, whose home was in Boston, and Mr. Strong got into communication through correspondence, and last week she arrived in Centre Hall and was met by her prospective husband. By mutual agreement the two wished to know more of each other before taking the marriage vow, and consequently the wedding was postponed until the time mentioned, which was almost a week after the young lady's arrival from the Hub city.

GUN SHOT WAS FATAL

A Shocking Fatality Occurred Near Lock Haven Monday

GUN TRIGGER CAUGHT

Causing the Accidental Discharge of the Weapon—Woman Received Charge in her Breast

WAS HANDING IT THRO' STOVE HOLE

By the accidental discharge of a shot gun Mrs. Charles Chubb, 24 years old, wife of an employe on the farm of George F. Good near Lock Haven was killed Monday afternoon.

At 12 30 o'clock the employees of the farm were called to dinner by Mrs. Chubb and during the meal their talk turned to the damage done by chicken hawks. Every effort had been made to rid the farm of the pests, and Chubb kept his shotgun loaded in readiness to bring down the poultry destroyers.

Dinner was nearly over and Mrs. Chubb was clearing away some of the dishes when her husband, happening to glance out of the window, shouted, "There's one now, bring me my gun." Mrs. Chubb, not waiting for any of the men to get the weapon, knowing where her husband kept, ran up the stairs to their room. Fearing that the hawk would escape if she carried the gun downstairs, she went to a stovepipe hole in the room and called to her husband to catch the gun when it dropped.

Chubb was waiting. His wife leaning over dropped the loaded gun butt downward through the hole and on its descent the trigger struck a projection. There was a report, a groan and the smoking weapon clattered on the dining room floor.

Chubb and his fellow employes rushed upstairs to his room and there found Mrs. Chubb lying on the floor in the agonies of death. The charge had entered her breast and throat, severing the the jugular vein and she only lived five minutes after the accident.

Mrs. Chub was a popular young matron and both she and her husband were faithful employes at "Goldenwood," the farm of George F. Good, a railroad contractor of that place. The pair have no children.

Aged Man Fell From Train

An unknown aged man, who had a ticket for Snow Shoe, fell from a train at the passenger station Wednesday evening and had a narrow escape from falling undes the wheels. The man came to town in the morning and was not here long until he became almost too drunk to attend to the business for which he came, having gotten into an altercation with several business men. When the Tyrone train arrived in Bellefonte he boarded the smoking car unnoticed by the trainmen and after the train had started to pull out the man attempted to get off. The brakeman noticed him and tried to hold him from falling. Seeing he could not do this, as the man was quite heavy and too drunk to help himself much, he gave the man a shove so as to put him clear off the train. The drunken man was thrown to the platform and his head slightly injured, but he was very much incensed at the treatment he received from the brakeman. Had not the brakeman given him a push as he attempted to step from the train it is probable that he would have fallen under.

Horse Ran Away

A runaway horse caused considerable excitement along High street Wednesday afternoon. The horse came from somewhere on Allegheny street and turned down High on its way to the Palace livery stable in the rear of this office. When it reached here there was nothing attached to it but the harness and the broken shafts. The buggy had struck a tree at the residence of Emil Joseph, where the shafts were broken off and the buggy turned up-side-down. In turning the corner at the alley leading to the livery stable the horse slipped on the brick crossing and fell against a telephone pole, but fortunately was not injured. The horse belongs to Ned Blanchard but we were unable to learn who was driving at the time it ran away.

HELD ON SUSPICION

Young Man Resembling Alex Rosenbloom Taken by Authorities Friday Afternoon.

Friday afternoon a young man tallying to the description of Alexander Rosenbloom, who is charged with murdering his father, S. I. Rosenbloom, at Windber last November, and whose body is thought to have been found near Camden several weeks ago, was taken into custody by the authorities here and held for further information.

The story of his arrest as given to this paper is as follows. Morris Baum had been to State College during the day and when a short distance out of town on his way home he came across the man along the public road, and at the request of the young man he was taken into the buggy. Mr. Baum asked him where he was going, and the young man replied that he had no particular destination. Baum told him he was going to Bellefonte and would take him along if he wished to go. Mr. Baum did not question him any further but his passenger began telling him many stories of his travels and then contradicted himself. He first told that he had not had any dinner, and at Lemont Mr. Baum gave him fifty cents to go into a store to get something to eat, which he refused to do. While continuing on the journey towards Bellefonte Mr. Baum's passenger told him many things about Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, Johnstown and other places where young Rosenbloom had been mentioned in the accounts of the finding of the body in the daily papers. Mr. Baum had read the story and these things began to appeal to him, but he still did not think this could be the person wanted at Windber. When they neared Bellefonte Mr. Baum's passenger objected to riding into town, and wanted to get out of the buggy which aroused Baum's suspicion more than ever. When he arrived in Bellefonte he told his experience and policeman Wm. Beezer was notified of the strangers presence in the town.

The young man was then held for identification and the above mentioned official telephoned for a description of young Rosenbloom. Everything about the prisoner answered the description except no mention had been made of the end of his little finger being cut off. In the description it was stated that one finger was crooked at the end and the prisoner bore a corresponding crooked finger. Rosenbloom was a Russian Jew and the young man held here is also of that extraction. His appearance resembled very much that of the cut in the papers.

The young man in custody was questioned by the officer and the district attorney and told several conflicting stories. He gave his name as Morton Pintsis, of 1411 North 8th street, Philadelphia, and stated that he had been roaming about the country, with no particular destination in view. He was placed in the county jail to await full information and photograph from the Somerset county authorities.

LATER

The young man giving his name as Morton Pintsis, of Philadelphia, who was held on suspicion as being Alexander Rosenbloom, was released Saturday afternoon. A photograph and full description of the man wanted was received in the afternoon and it was soon learned that the prisoner was not wanted. The young man was not much worried over his arrest and wanted to be taken to Windber and let them have a look at him there. He had made up his mind to go to Pittsburg and by letting the authorities take him to Windber would have furnished him free transportation that far. After being liberated he spent some time at the store of J. Finkelstein, there being some acquaintance with their families.

Large Barn Burned

The large bank barn on the Solomon Haagen farm in Beech Creek township, Clinton county, with all its contents, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The fire was discovered by the crew of a passing freight train and the alarm given. The season's crop, four horses and a colt were burned. The origin of the fire is a mystery, The barn was one of the largest in Bald Eagle Valley.

Large Barn Burned.

The large bank barn on the farm of Mrs. J. W. Mattern, about two miles west of Unionville, was destroyed by fire during Thursday night. In addition to the barn all adjoining sheds, the season's crop of hay and grain and two calves were burned. All the implements were removed from the implement shed. The fire is supposed to have been of an incendiary origin.

GIRL'S DARING SAVES BOY

When He was Bitten by a Snake She cut out Poisoned Flesh.

Miss Isabella Huston, daughter of Dr. J. H. Huston of Clintondale is now just as much of a heroine among her friends as if she had gone forth to fight one of the most dangerous denizens of the forest; and well she may be, as she showed presence of mind and took prompt action in going to the aid of Rand McManus, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William McManus, of Williamsport, when he had been bitten by a rattlesnake.

The incident happened several days ago while a party of friends from Williamsport and Lock Haven were camping at Hecla park, but the story has just become known.

Several members of the party determined to go into the Gorges' valley gap to explore the famous trout streams. The McManus boy accompanied them. While walking through the brush the lad was bitten by a rattlesnake. His mother fainted and others became panic-stricken. Miss Huston who was on an auto trip, stopped, took the boy on her knee, cut away his clothing from his leg and tied her handkerchief above the bite. Then borrowing a pen knife from one of the men in the party, she sharpened it on a stone and after sterlizing it by holding it in the blaze of a burning match she deftly cut out the wound made by the bite and enough of the surrounding flesh to remove all the poison. The boy is getting well.

Four Children Injured.

Four small children, whose parents are foreigners, ranging in age from 2 to 6 years, were seriously injured shortly after 3 o'clock Friday afternoon while playing under a draft of cars standing on a siding on the Bulah branch of the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad while shifting was being done.

A draft of empty cars had been left standing on the siding near the children's homes and during the afternoon they crawled under the cars and were playing. Shortly after 3 in the afternoon the trainmen started to shift cars. Another draft of cars was pushed against the draft that was stationary, starting the cars in motion.

The quartet of children were playing along the track and when the cars started they were caught underneath the wheels, the cars passing over them before the trainmen discovered them in their dangerous position.

The children all live near Bulah, on the Moshannon branch, close to Osceola, and when the accident occured they were taken from beneath the cars, bleeding profusely, and to their homes. The railroad company physician at that point was summoned and upon his arrival advised that they be taken to the hospital at Philipsburg, where it was found that their condition was critical although not necessarily fatal.

Dennis Kane.

Dennis Kane, an aged resident of Spring township, died at his home in Axe Mann Saturday afternoon about three o'clock. For some time the infirmities of old age had been wearing upon his health and the past three or four weeks marked a rapid decline in his strength, until death called him away.

The deceased was aged about 78 years and was one of the respected citizens of the community in which he lived. He was a member of the St. John's Catholic church of Bellefonte.

Surviving him are his wife, two sons, Edward of Spring township and John at home; and three daughters, Mrs. Anna Sunday, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Agnes Howard, at home and Mrs. James Morrison of Bellefonte.

Funeral services took place Wednesday morning when requiem mass was held in the St. John's Catholic church in Bellefonte. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

WILL FIGHT BEEF TRUST

An Indenpent Concern in Chicago has Started to do Business.

MEANS LOWER PRICES

Company is Building a $2,500,000 Plant and it is Thought Competition Will be Fierce.

STOCK MEN WILL BE BENEFITED

Chicago, Aug. 28 h.—Competition that promises to mean a cut in meat prices is schedul d in the beef trade about Oct. 1. An independent concern has been incorporated under the name of "Chicago Stock Yards and Transit company," as a rival of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company. It has a capital stock of $2,500,000, of which nearly half is to be spent for a plant. The company has purchased twenty-five acres of land and is now building.

According to H. W. Rockwell, one of the incorporators, the benefits of competition will been enjoyed by the cattle raisers, butchers and consumers, because the new company expects to cut prices.

The competition will be the fiercest the "beef trust" has ever had, accord ing to the incorporators of the new company. Instead of being compelled to pay twenty-five cents a day for each head of stock kept in the yards while waiting for a purchaser. Rockwell declares the stock man will pay an initial cost of but fifteen cents. Instead of a uniform price of one dollar a bushel for corn used in feeding, the market price will be charged. Instead of twenty dollars a ton for straw for feeding and bedding the new concern proposes to charge only four and five dollars a ton. The new concern will permit stock men to purchase feed and bedding elsewhere if they wish.

An important advantage which Rockwell says, the new concern will offer the stock raiser will be the absence of track charges. The Chicago company will own its own switch track, and will not have to make the ordinary charges made by the Union Stock Yards company. The beef trust, Rockwell says, charges two dollars a car for all trains hauled over the Chicago Junction railway, which it controls.

To the Patrons of the Public Schools.

For the benefit of those whose children attend school at the midway, I desire to say the board has done what it could to improve the ventilation of the rooms and the surroundings of the building. For some reason or other the illness of any child in attendance upon school in this building is charged to the building. This is not just.

A pupil of the Academy has just recovered from a long period of illness from typhoid fever. Nobody seems to think it came from the building or was caused by the surroundings and I honestly believe it was not.

Colds, grip, measels, whooping cough etc. come and no body can prevent them even with the utmost care. All the buildings owned by the public schools are as well ventilated and kept as clean (I think cleaner) as any other school buildings in town and in some of them the ventilation very much better

For the board I submit that before the patrons come to conclusions about either the cleanliness or impurity of any building used for public school purposes they will carefully examine them and their surroundings. Indeed everybody, whether a patron or not, is invited to do so.

Respectfully
D. F. FORTNEY.

John Moore.

John Moore, a son of Mrs. Ella Moore of State College died suddenly Friday morning at six o'clock. The young man was taken ill Wednesday night with some internal trouble, but was feeling better Thursday morning and went to work. About ten o'clock he was seized with another attack and went home. He continued to grow worse and at three o'clock Friday morning the family physician was sent for and upon his arrival found the young man in such a condition that nothing could be done for him, and death ensued at the time mentioned.

Mr. Moore was 22 years of age and is survived by his widowed mother a sister, Miss Margaret, and a brother Edward.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the house and Rev. Stonecypher will officiate. Interment will be made at Pine Hall.

Some Famous Sallies.

Great men have been guilty of punning, and some of the most famous of these sallies have come down in history. There is something melancholy about the pun of Dr. Thomas Browne, who, having unsuccessfully courted a lady and being challenged to drink to her health, as had been his wont, replied, "I have toasted her many years, but I cannot make her Browne, so I will toast her no longer."

Sydney Smith's jest at the expense of Mrs. Grote had the salt of malice in it. She was famed for ill taste in dress, and as one day she swept by in an extraordinary headdress Smith pointed her out to a friend, saying, "That is the origin of the word 'grotesque.'"

Mrs. Grote, however, had her revenge. Sydney Smith's daughter married a Dr. Holland. When the latter was knighted some one mentioned his wife as Lady Holland. "Do you mean Lord Holland's wife?" asked the listener.

"No," replied Mrs. Grote. "This new Holland, whose capital is Sydney."

When the barrister Campbell married Miss Scarlett his friend explained his absence from court by telling the judge that Campbell was suffering from a bad attack of Scarlett fever.

Ancient Chains.

"Some authorities," says an English writer, "give the Britons credit for originating the cable chain because Julius Caesar is recorded as having been unable to cut the cables of the Gaul's vessels, 'as they were made of iron.' This may have been a chain in the present acceptation of the term, but it is doubtful, because the first patent for chainmaking was obtained in England in 1634 by a blacksmith named Philip White. The patent was for fourteen years, and in consideration of it White had to pay £5 in lawful money yearly 'at the exchequer, Westminster, att the Feast of the Blessed Virgyn and Saint Michell the Archangell by even and eual process.'

"His patent is described as follows: 'A way for the wearing of shipps with iron chaynes by finding out the true beating (pre pareing and tempering of Iyron for that (pur)pose and that he hath nowe attayned to the true vse of the said chaynes and that the same wilbe for the great saveing of cordage and safety of shippers and will redound to good of our Comon Wealth.'"

Bread That Intoxicates.

In far eastern Russia, in that region which lies between the sea and the river called Missuri, the humidity of the climate as well as of the soil is remarkable. Vegetation is here distinguished for its wondrous exuberance, to such an extent that the soil never dries up. The result is that the inhabitants in order to prevent putrefaction of the roots sow their corn upon a series of layers of the soil. Nevertheless in certain districts the humidity is so intense that there grows upon the ears of corn a kind of fungous matter made up of micro fungi. As a result of this sporadic excrescence the bread made from the corn in question gives all the results of an overdose of alcohol. In very humid climates the phenomenon is likewise known, though to nothing like the extent of eastern Siberia, where whole districts are affected by this strange kind of "alcoholized bread."

Shakespeare's Name.

It has often been a puzzle to students of Shakespeare why his name is spelled in so many different ways. Shakespeare himself is said to have signed his name on different occasions "Shakspeare" and "Shakespere," and learned disquisitions have been written to prove which is the proper spelling. None perhaps was more amusing than the "weather" reason given in 1851 by Albert Smith, who averred that he had found it in the Harleian manuscript. It was as follows:

How dyd Shakspeare spell hys name?
Ye weatherre mayde ye change, we saye.
So write it as ye please;
When ye sonne shone he mayde hys A;
When wette he took hys E'es.

Installments All Around.

Patient (gloomily)—I don't seem to be gaining very fast, doctor.

Doctor (cheerfully)—You can't expect to get well at one jump. You will have to regain your health gradually day by day—sort of on the installment plan, as it were.

Patient (brightening up)—Well, doctor, if this thing keeps on much longer I'm afraid that you will have to collect your bill in the same way.—Judge's Library.

Why They Objected.

"No," said the fireman, who represented the truck company that had refused to work with a colored truckman, "there is no race prejudice in it. But we certainly hate to work with a man whose face will look just as clean on the way home from a long fire fight as it did when we started, while we other chaps all look smudgy."—Judge's Library.

A MINE CAR ACCIDENT

Five Men Were Killed In a Runaway Collision.

DOWN A LONG SLOPE

When it Struck a Car on Which Twenty Men Were Riding, Killing or Injuring all but Six.

CAUSED BY MEN LOSING CONTROL

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., August 28.—Five men were instantly killed, another expected to die and five others were seriously injured in a collision late this afternoon at the Warrior Run colliery of the L high Valley Coal company, about six miles from this city. The men were being hoisted up the slope when a runaway car struck the cars on which were twenty men, who were employed in the mine. Only six of them escaped entirely uninjured. Those killed were horribly mangled.

The car which ran away was being switched from one track to another when the head man in charge lost control of it. It went beyond the point intended, jumped the latches at the head of the slope and running up a steep incline. It then ran back down into the slope, 1,000 feet, before it struck the other cars with the men on. The cars the workmen were on had just stopped at what was known as No. 3 lift to take on other employes from that section of the mine. A signal to start upwards had just been given the hoisting engineer when the roar of the downcoming car warned the men of their danger. The few that escaped jumped from the cars at once but the others were caught before they could escape.

The force of the impact broke the cone to which the cable was attached and allowed the cars to run down the slope. A hundred feet down they jmped the track and piled up in a mass of wreckage, pinning some of the dead and injured. The others were scattered along the section of the slope from No. 3 lift downwards.

Work of the Salvation Army.

Friday morning Miss Elizabeth Young of Bridgeton, N. J., who had been assisting in the work of the local branch of the Salvation Army departed for her home. Miss Young had been aiding in the work here for the past nine weeks and her singing and assistance with the accordeon was much appreciated by all. When Miss Young departed she took along a young woman who will make her residence at the rescue home of the army in Philadelphia. By her actions in times past this woman has become a notorious character and has given the police much trouble. By kindly words her heart was won by the Salvation Army and she finally gave her consent to accompany Miss Young to the rescue home. This is the kind of work that has brought the Salvation Army into favor among all branches of the church and in the eyes of all right thinking people. It is to be hoped that their efforts in reclaiming this woman to a virtuous live will not have been in vain and that she may be a blessing in in the future. The local members of the army deserve praise for their work along this line. They should also receive the hearty financial support of all who are interested in the saving of human souls.

Killed Large Snakes.

George A. Bair and wife of Williamsport who had been visiting at Rebersburg started for their home on Wednesday and while riding in the stage from Rebersburg to Coburn had an experience with several large blacksnakes in a place which is infrequently populated by snakes. While driving along the road the Williamsporter suddenly noticed a large snake stretched out along the road enjoying a sun bath. He and the driver, Claud Haines, quickly jumped to the ground and attacked the reptile. They soon dispatched his snakeship and were then confronted by another of the species, which they also killed. The first snake measured five and one-half feet while the other was about four feet long.

Gave Pie Party.

Miss Helen Hamilton gave a pie party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Nolan on Thursday evening to a number of her friends. The evening was very pleasantly spent in games and other diversions and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Those present were:

Misses Lizzie McGowan, Florence Evey, Margaret Rosenbcover, Eva Shutt, Kate McCoy, Lula Morrison, Annie Sloey, and Margie Richard. Messrs. Charles Kellerman, Roy Keihler, Ned Heverly, Harry Nightbart, Merrill Knapp, Roll Bryan, Ray Baird, Homer McKinley, Reuben Grassmyer, Charles Dungan, Chas. Resides and Oscar Zong.

Newton's Light Theory.

Sir Isaac Newton earned worldwide fame by showing that gravitation, previously recognized only at the surface of the earth, is operative throughout the universe wherever there is matter. In another field of physics he was far less happy. His brilliant success in experimental optics came to be qualified, though not invalidated, by a faulty interpretation of the facts. He gave his name and powerful authority to the corpuscular theory of light. In Sir Isaac's view, the phenomenon of luminosity is produced by corpuscles—exceedingly minute particles of matter—which are projected continuously from the sun, stars and all other luminous bodies. But his corpuscles failed to elucidate all the appearances, and Sir Isaac's theory was finally deposed by an explanation which referred light to undulatory vibrations in the ether. It would be some comfort for the discoverer of universal gravitation, were he living now, to realize that the modern physicist is daily dealing with corpuscles flung off from matter at speeds fairly comparable with that of life itself.

Couldn't Help It.

A young lady tells the following story of an Englishman she met during a trip to Mexico:

The Englishman became acquainted with the American party while they were all guests at a winter hotel. Whenever the parents of the American girl proposed any trip the Englishman immediately begged to be made one of the party. He was to be included in a moonlight trip to a nearby mountain. After the Americans were ready to start they had to delay some fifteen minutes awaiting their guest's arrival. When he did arrive he electrified them by his comments on the reason for his delay. What he said was:

"I beg pardon for my beastly tardiness. Couldn't help it, don'cherknow. I had to bring my mother from the gardens first. It's a singular horrid bore, but one has to be kind to his mother, don'cherknow!" — Milwaukee Free Press.

The Queer Screw Plant.

There is nothing under the sun quite so quaint, so weird and witchlike as the pandanus prairies of Fiji. The pandanus, or screw plant, as it is called, is a most grotesque specimen of the vegetable kingdom even at the best and in the early stages of its growth. In its very young days it is of an extraordinarily screwlike shape and looks as though some unkind hand had taken hold of its long, swordlike leaves and twisted them round and round. Later on it straightens out a bit, and from it grow a number of tall wooden stilts. Its foliage is simple, a number of drooping, ragged tufts, for all the world like mops and very mournful looking. Among these mops hangs the fruit, in shape like a pineapple, made up of hard red and yellow kernels, woody and fibrous and quite uneatable from a European's point of view.

His Status.

The caste system is so deeply rooted among the people of India that Christianized Hindoos are still under its potent influence. For example, Mr. J. C. Oman, formerly professor of natural science in the government college at Lahore, tells in his book, "The Brahmans, Deists and Muslims of India," of the native Christian head master of a mission school who was asked in a court of justice what his religion was.

"Brahman-Christian," he replied.

The judge, who was a European, not recognizing such a sect, asked for more information.

"I am a Brahman-Christian," reiterated the head master. "I cannot call myself simply a Christian," he continued with some warmth, "when that Choorah (sweeper) there is also a Christian. I am a Brahman-Christian, sir."

Friday and Fortunes.

Two women who wished to make an appointment with a fortune teller who was pronounced "just splendid" by everybody who had patronized her, were advised by the seer to come on Friday.

"That is, if you are not superstitious about Friday," she said. "Most people are. They regard Friday as such an unlucky day that they won't even have their fortune told them for fear they will hear something unlucky. That is why I advised you to come on that day. I will have plenty of time and won't have to put your cases through with such a rush."—St. Louis Republic.

An Equinox.

Tommy—Pa, what is an equinox? Pa—Why—er—it is—ahem! For goodness sake, Tommy, don't you know anything about mythology at all? An equinox was a fabled animal, half horse, half cow. Its name is derived from the words 'equine' and 'ox.' It does seem as if these public schools don't teach children anything nowadays!"

Naturalized.

An Italian went to the civil service commissioners' rooms to be examined for a laborer's position. He answered most of the questions correctly. Finally they asked him if he had ever been naturalized. He seemed a bit puzzled, but at last his face lighted up. "Ah, I know whata you mean. Scratcha de arm. Yes, lasta week."

Then He Stole.

Prudent Swain—If I were to steal a kiss, would it scare you so that you would scream? Timid Maiden—I couldn't. Fright always makes me dumb.

I have never known a man of real ability to be ungrateful.—Goethe.

Theodore Boal Honored.

The appointment of Hon. T. D. Boal, of our neighboring town of Boalsburg, as secretary of the delegation to the international congress to be held at Saragossa Spain, by the United States government, has been announced. In commecting on the appointment of Mr. Boal the Las Novedades, a Spanish paper, says:

To represent the United States in the international congress, which will be celebrated in the noted city of Saragossa in October next, in commemoration of the centennial of the War of Independence and its epoch, the Federal government has appointed the following persons: Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, formerly of the board of health, Ex Gov. of the Island of Cuba, and general in the army in the Philippines, whose principal work in these places was the directing and inspecting the great works of sanitation completed by the American administration. Gen. Wood goes accompanied by his wife, and is already making a pleasure trip to Spain. Next in rank to Gen. Wood, follows Rear Admiral C. F. Goodrich, the head of the Navy yard at Brooklyn, the most important position in the American navy and next to the secretary of the navy. Prof. Henry Roseman Lang, of Yale, and Prof. A. C. Coolidge, of Harvard, together with the Hon. Theodore Davis Boal constitute the whole of the distinguished delegation which the United States in sending to Spain upon this ostentatious occasion.

The Hon. Theodore Davis Boal is an architect, a diplomat and a capitalist with large possessions in Washington, Pennsylvania and Colorado, a gentleman of culture and fine address. We are sure that he will make himself exceptionally agreeable to Spanish eople, because aside from his high personal qualities is the fact of his marriage to a lady of Spanish origin, Madame Matilde de Lagarde, daughter of a famous French mining engineer and whose mother traces her ancestry to the ancient nobility of Spain. Mr. Boal is moreover a nephew of the celebrated American archeologist, Chevalier Theodore Davis, whose discoveries in the Egyptian excavations have made his name famous in the scientific world.

Excitement at Sykesville.

Sykesville, a mining hamlet in Jefferson county, is excited over the reported discovery of gold-bearing dirt at a depth of 35 feet. Drillers on the lot of Daniel Wise were boring for water, and at a shallow depth struck such a strong flow of gas that the well had to be plugged. It is the only gas well in that district.

Wise and the drillers bored again near the first hole, and work came to a sudden stop when Wise, who is an old prospector, found what he believed to be pay dirt. Samples are being analyzed, and pending a report real estate in the vicinity is held at high figures.

Get Into the Boosting Business

Do you know there's lots of people
Sittin' round most every town,
Growling like a broody chicken,
Knocking every good thing down,
Don't be that kind of cattle,
'Cause they ain't no use on earth,
But just be a booster rooster,
Crow an' boost for all your worth.

If your town needs boostin', boost her,
Don't hold back and wait to see,
If some other fellow's willin',
Sail right in, this country's free,
No one's got a mortgage on it,
It's just youre as much as his,
If your town is shy of boosters'
You get in the boostin biz.

If things don't seem to suit you,
An' the world seems kinder wrong,
What's the matter with a boostin',
Just to help the thing along,
'Cause if things should stop again,
We'd be in a sorry plight,
You just keep the horn a blowing,
Boost her up with all your might.

If you see some fellows tryin,'
For to make some project go,
An' you can boost it up a trifle,
That's your cue to let him know,
That you're not goin' to knock it,
Just because it ain't your shout,
But that you are going to boost a little,
'Cause he is got the best thing out.

Getting Ready for the Census.

Uncle Sam scarcely completes one census before he begins to make preparation for a new count of his citizens. It is estimated that the thirteenth census will show a very great increase in population over the census of 1900. The cost of the next census is placed at $14,500,000—an increase of $1,500,000 over the census of 1900. Sixty-five thousand enumerators will be employed. The census bureau is a permanent department of the government. It is claimed that its efficiency has been greatly increased already and that if civil service regulations are enforced in the appointment of the field force, including enumerators, the results will show a material improvement over previous censuses. But the proposition to place the census bureau under civil service rules is antagonized in congress. A bill introduced by Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, at the last session, authorized the director of the census to appoint the force of enumerators on a non-competitive basis. It is not improbable, however, that the competitive principle will be adopted, although there are not a few congressmen of both parties who are loath to give up the patronage and leave the appointments to the civil service commission. There are still some active advocates of the spoils system, but they seem to be in the minority.

THE ONION HARVEST.

A Wisconsin reader of these notes writes stating that this is the first year he has tried to raise onions on a large scale and that he would like a few suggestions as to the best method of harvesting and marketing the crop. With the thought that information given him may be of assistance to some other readers, we present it here. Onions from seed sown as early as possible in the spring should be ready to pull by the 10th of September or shortly after. The right time for this is when the tops of the crop as a whole have withered and are thoroughly dry and the roots dead. The work of pulling may be done by hand, but where the ground has been kept free from weeds it may be more rapidly done by using a round toothed lawn rake, which should be held firmly so that the teeth will come under the onion and pulled gently at an angle to the row, so that the pull of the rake will come on but one onion at a time. We have found it convenient to go through the field raking three rows loose facing in one direction, then raking three rows from the opposite direction toward these. This gives a windrow across the field of six rows, which makes a convenient quantity in the work of topping. Care should be taken not to pile the onions up, for if wet weather comes on they are likely to heat and sprout. The job of topping may be commenced as soon as the onions are thoroughly dry after pulling. While a twist of the wrist, a jackknife or sheep shears are used by some for this job, we have found nothing so convenient as a sharp pair of old shears. They are light, and one can work fast with them. The top should be cut at a point about a third of an inch from the bulb. The chief point to have in mind in the harvest of onions is a thorough curing of the crop, without which they will not keep properly. After the topping is done it is well to let the onions remain on the ground in shallow windrows for a week or ten days, at the end of which time they may be sacked in the common bushel and a half onion sack or put in bushel crates, as the demands of the nearest market will determine. Not the least important matter in connection with what may be called a successful handling of the crop is the finding of a market for it. If one has from 10,000 pounds up to a carload, the minimum weight of which is 24,000 pounds, it is well to get in touch with reliable dealers in the larger nearby markets. One year with another they should bring from 40 to 50 cents a bushel, free on board shipping point, and sometimes more than this if marketed early, when the demand is sharp or the crop is short. If one has less than 10,000 pounds, lives near a good live town and can spare the time, more can be realized by peddling them out from house to house. The onions should be sacked only when they are thoroughly dry, the sacks sewed and put aboard cars at once or in a dry place until time of shipment.

THE BIG CORN SHOW.

The National Corn exposition, which this year bids fair to far surpass in scope and importance anything of its like ever attempted, will be held at Omaha, Neb., from Dec. 9 to 19. A letter to the writer from the general manager, Professor J. W. Jones, who for several years was Professor P. G. Holden's right hand man at the State college at Ames and who is general manager of the exposition, states that in his opinion the National Corn exposition is doing more to jog agriculture along throughout the United States than any other single organization that it is going to be a tremendously big affair as well as clean, wholesome and educational. Mr. Jones further states that the management has drawn plans which will provide 30,000 square feet more space than was at first thought necessary, while it is more than likely that even these accommodations will have to be enlarged upon before the entry season closes. It is the thought of the members of the association, who are residents of every state in the corn belt, that corn growing has vast possibilities which have not yet been realized in spite of the fact that its annual commercial value is more than that of all other cereals combined. The aim of the exposition is akin to the fat stock show—the exhibition of the best and most valuable thoroughbred types, together with the presentation of data relative to best methods of breeding and care. Details of the exposition as respects conditions, prizes, etc., will be given wide publication at an early date. Every farmer who has A No. 1 corn should plan to exhibit it and if possible take it to the exposition in person, where in all probability he will be benefited more by what he sees than by the prizes he may carry off with his exhibits.

A right system of farming presupposes good fences, which mean that hogs will have abundant pasture and sheep will have a place on the farm.

In June we are of the opinion there is no combination that holds a candle to strawberries and Jersey cream; in September, that it is difficult to have a more delicious dish than ripe fleshy tomatoes and the same kind of dressing.

In no season for the past ten years has the weather prevailing throughout the middle western states been more favorable than this for the securing of the hay crop, which both from the standpoint of quality and yield has been far above the average.

Recent census reports are to the effect that there are in the United States 20,000,000 horses and 4,000,000 mules, the largest numbers ever reported, and this in spite of the unprecedented introduction of automobiles and an unusual development of the trolley car system.

According to reports from the Hawaiian Islands, the sugar crop of the islands for the year 1907-8 bids fair to surpass any crop ever harvested there. From sources of information available it is estimated that the crop for this year will be 423,100 short tons as compared with 336,012 tons for the year 1906-7.

One year with another experience proves that early potatoes will do better if planted before rather than after the 1st of June. While the later planting may do all right if there is sufficient rainfall during July and August, it will suffer severely if there is not and the yield be correspondingly reduced. If planted earlier the vines make a good growth and shade the ground before the drought weather comes on.

It has been determined from feeding tests that in spite of the fact that hogs will eat immature apples with great relish their feeding value is slight, often not serving to offset the damage resulting from an acid condition of stomach which they produce. When the apples are thoroughly ripe and the starch they contain has been largely converted into sugar they possess a greater though not large value as a food ration.

Origin of sausage temporarily and substantially has been in doubt in the minds of a good many folks for a long time. The Butchers' Advocate is authority for the statement that it dates back to the year 897, when it contained much the same elements as the French Canadian blood pudding. Not until the tenth century was sausage made from hashed pork. It was not until about 1500, following the introduction of cinnamon and saffron into Germany, that the savory Frankfort sausages acquired an international reputation, which they have maintained up to the present.

Western live stock growers have started a serious agitation in favor of a method of selling cattle subject to postmortem examination for tuberculosis. As things are now the packers have to sell their products on an inspection basis, while they buy cattle on the hoof on a no inspection basis. Naturally, in order to make themselves good on losses which they sustain as a result of federal inspection, they put the price on live cattle low enough so as to give a safe margin. From this it can be plainly seen that the stockman whose cattle are entirely free from taint of tuberculosis has to stand the loss to the packer which is sustained in the purchase of some other shipper's infected cattle. If the postmortem examination rule were adopted, the loss from diseased cattle would fall, as it ought to, on the fellow who shipped them to market.

Statistics give evidence that one of the big leaks for which residents of agricultural communities have to stand good results from the loss sustained in the hauling of produce to market over bad roads. Being one of the necessary items of expense, that of hauling is sort of taken for granted, little account being given by the average farmer to the annual tax which he pays under the head of hauling expense. On roads which are likely to be bad in spots from a ton to a ton and a half is a good load for the average team. Where roads are in first class shape, hard and smooth, and vehicles of sufficient capacity this load could be increased from 60 to 100 per cent with virtually no increase in cost of moving. This matter is one in which every grower of stock or produce is vitally interested and consequently one that should receive his careful attention.

A cattle feeder living at Stanton, Neb., recently topped the Omaha cattle market with four carloads of fat cattle which weighed on an average 1,572 pounds each and brought $8.10 per hundred. This feeder bought the bunch last November for $4.60 per hundred, when they weighed 1,110 pounds each. An interesting fact in connection with this feeding experiment is that the steers were given an exclusive balanced ration of corn and alfalfa. The price, $8.10, was the highest that had been paid on the Omaha market since 1902. In view of this showing special interest will attach to a feature of the big corn exposition which is to be held in Omaha next December, which will consist of an alfalfa palace that will not only be artistically constructed, but will give a complete exhibit of alfalfa and its products as well as furnish literature proving its value as a stock ration. In localities where it will grow alfalfa and corn constitute twin representatives of the highest type of agricultural prosperity.

However great the temptation to sell the best that one raises, it is the part of wisdom to save this for breeding purposes, and this holds whether it be live stock, poultry or grain.

A careful removing and burning of the weeds that have escaped your vigilance during the growing season and are full of ripened seed will save many strokes of the hoe next year. It is a case where a stitch in time saves more than nine.

Some enterprising housewife has found out that when hot water is not at hand for scalding the tomatoes the skin may be loosened almost as well by drawing a knife blade away across the surface of the fruit with firm pressure. This bruises the flesh just enough so that the skin may be readily peeled off.

A chap living near Parnell, Mo., who had previously eaten a half bushel of peanuts at a single sitting, recently broke this record by eating forty-eight bananas and finishing off with a gallon of ice cream and three quarts of water. If the news item had not stated that this creature was a man he would surely be taken for a Poland-China.

The writer knows from sampling it that jelly made from Wealthy apples is not surpassed by that made from Transcendant crabs or any other variety. This apple is remarkably juicy, while its fine spicy flavor is imparted to the jelly in a marked degree. Windfalls and culls which cannot be marketed may be utilized with advantage for jelly timber.

Experiments which have been conducted by hog raisers in different parts of the country show that when corn is hogged down—that is, when the hogs are turned into small portions of the unhusked field and allowed to feed at will—they will make from 25 to 30 per cent better gain than when fed in the yards. Doubtless the green food, exercise and change are largely responsible for the better showing.

The matter of breaking the colt is one that should receive attention from the first if a gentle and tractable horse is desired. In the same way the little heifer calf should be petted and handled as if in the act of milking, and she will become used to the process and will not be vexed by it when her first calf comes and she really has to be milked. Most animals respond in a remarkable manner to kind, gentle treatment and caresses, and the ease with which they are handled and cared for as a result repays the owner for the trouble he takes.

Bird friends all over the country will rejoice over the good news which comes from Louisiana to the effect that after four years of strenuous fighting the state legislature has at last passed a law removing robins from the list of game birds for which there is an open shooting season. It is said that last winter during a period of about six weeks there were slaughtered by pot hunters in that state alone over a million robins. What this means in the decreasing of the insect destroying force of the country can hardly be estimated. It is hoped that Texas and Alabama, the only two other states which permit the ruthless slaughter of the robin, will soon realize the cash nexus in bird preservation and fall into line.

Tobacco growers of the country have been interested much of late in the publication of results of experiments which have been conducted the past four or five years by the government along the line of growing a type of tobacco called the Sumatra wrapper in portions of Texas. It has been discovered that both soil and climate are nicely adapted to the growing of the plant, and if the hopes of experimenters are realized Texas will in a few years become one of the leading tobacco growing states of the country. One Texas landowner, a resident of Pilestine, reports excellent financial returns from four years' culture of this variety of tobacco. He grows it under shade, having seventeen acres covered, for which he uses 30,000 linear feet of lumber. He is able to raise 1,200 pounds to the acre and receives 50 cents a pound for the product.

At a meeting of the National Apple Growers' association which was held in St. Louis early in August a plan was formed for the organizing of all apple growers for the pooling of their product. The immediate objects of the organization are to wage a campaign for better transportation facilities, withdraw patronage from the commission men, lower the price of apples to the consumer and raise the profits of the grower, who in the estimate of the association has been having hold of the small end of the stick for some time past. One feature of the plan has in view the establishment of apple depots and market houses in the larger cities of the country which shall be owned and controlled by the association, which will regulate the selling price of apples. There is no denying the fact that apple growers in the past have, as a rule, been plucked and fleeced ruthlessly by apple dealers, who aim to beat the prices of apples down to the point where there is little or nothing in the raising of them. It is possible that the new plan may be worked out in its more important aspects if the association shall include in its membership a large majority of apple growers and if they will stick to agreements as decided on by the association.

Caught the General.

One of the regular army officers tells a story of how the old stringent army regulations once went against General Scott. One wet afternoon that soldier was caught in the rain in Washington. He was in full uniform and was well known, so, no cab being near, he borrowed an umbrella. Arriving at his hotel, an underofficer approached him and calmly remarked:

"General, you will consider yourself under arrest for eight days for carrying an umbrella while in full uniform."

His Solicitude.

"Is it a fact that your mother-in-law threw herself out of the third story window and you did nothing to restrain her?"

"Excuse me, I went to the first story to catch her, but she had already passed."—Dia Jo Rosa.

Complimentary to Him.

"Really," said Cholly Sappey, "I haven't understood Miss Rood at all. She actually called me a crank."

"The idea!" exclaimed Miss Cutting. "How flattering!"

"Flattering?"

"Yes; a crank, you know, is a man with one idea."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Delays Are Dangerous.

"This milk is sour, and I won't take it," declared the lady.

"That's your own fault, ma'am," retorted the dealer. "I offered it to you day before yesterday when it was fresh, and you wouldn't take it."—Cleveland Leader.

EDITORIAL.

ATLANTIC City has concluded to be good when the season is about over.

MR. HEARST declares no boss shall rule the Independence party—that is no other boss.

WHILE critical eyes are watching the business conditions the signs continue to grow more and more encouraging.

THE Clearfield Republican which is one of the Democratic newspapers of that county, is naturally supporting the Democratic candidate of the district for Congress. The only thing it can find to say against the re-election of Congressman Barclay is that he wears side whiskers: but that is at best only a side issue.—Reynoldsville Herald.

REPUBLICAN COLORS ARE UP

Andrews Opens Headquarters For Presidential Campaign.

PARTY IN FIGHTING TRIM

Pennsylvania Will Try to Excel Her Glorious Majority of Half a Million For Theodore Roosevelt at Next November Election, With Taft and Sherman as the Standard Bearers. The Party Organization Was Never In a More Harmonious Condition.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.

With the opening of the state headquarters in this city yesterday the Republican campaign in Pennsylvania is now fairly under way.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee, was busily engaged all summer in arranging the preliminaries for the state canvass, so that everything was in good shape to begin the aggressive work which will be carried on until the polls close on election day, Tuesday, Nov. 3.

While even the Democrats concede Pennsylvnia to Judge Taft and the entire Republican ticket, it will be the aim of the Pepublicans of the Keystone state to maintain the prestige which they have long enjoyed of being the banner Republican state of the Union.

It may be difficult to surpass the glorious record of half a million plurality given by Pennsylvania to President Roosevelt, but it is the purpose of the sturdy Republicans of this splendid commonwealth to endeavor to excel even that accomplishment at the coming election.

Organization In Splendid Shape.

During the last two months Chairman Andrews has been working untiringly to perfect the various county organizations, and he has succeeded in whipping matters into excellent trim for the starting of the more serious business of the canvass.

There are 6000 county committeemen already upon the firing line, and they are alert and active in promoting the cause of the party nominees. The county chairman are now engaged in compiling their list of vigilantes who will comprise an army of 80,000 wide-awake and patriotic Pennsylvanians enlisted under the banner of Republicanism, and determined to rout the enemy at every point.

Every school district will be thoroughly canvassed, and early reports regarding popular sentiment in various parts of the state are most gratifying.

The Republican organization of Pennsylvania was never more harmonious, nor was there ever evinced a more pronounced spirit of loyalty to the party standard bearers.

Walton Heads Speakers' Bureau.

The announcement by Chairman Andrews of his appointment of former Speaker Henry F. Walton to be chief of the bureau of speakers was everywhere accepted as an assurance that this feature of the campaign will receive competent and careful attention. Mr. Walton is familiar with the interests of the several counties, and he has a wide acquaintance among public men of the different localities. He is in a position to enroll a formidable corps of spellbinders, and it is predicted that in arranging for meetings and providing them with speakers he will make an exceptional record.

Mr. Walton has already been in touch with Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican national committee, and he has been promised some of the most forceful and eloquent men, who will be on the stump this fall for assignment to meetings to be held in the debatable congressional districts.

National Committee Support.

The fact that Senator Penrose has been appointed on the executive committee of the Republican national committe, and that private offices have been assigned to him in the national committee headquarters in New York, where he will spend much of the time during the campaign, will be of material assistance to Chairman Andrews and Mr. Walton in their efforts to have the committee send to Pennsylvania a strong assignment of speakers, and to otherwise assist the state organization in its ambition to surpass the Roosevelt plurality of four years ago.

Andrews Is Sanguine.

"Republicans of Pennsylvania," said Colonel Adrews today, "will be true to their party at the coming election. There is no good reason why any Republican should desert his colors in this campaign, and we can fairly look for many gains from among the ranks of the first voters and the thousands of citizens who were formerly allied with the Democratic party, but who are not in sympathy with its present candidate or its policies, and who intend to vote the full Republican ticket in November.

"By its broad and wise policies the Republican party has developed the industries of this state until it is far more important in its interests than any other state in the Union, and it has more at ake in this campaign than any of m. A change in these policies would inflict more damage to Pennsylvania than to any other commonwealth, and, therefore, it stands to reason that Pennsylvania should support that party. What is true of Pennsylvania is in a degree applicable to many other states.

"Every man in Pennsylvania is directly concerned in the outcome of this contest. Every farmer, all of whom are prosperous, must recognize the fact that the perpetuation of Pennsylvania's manufacturing industries means continued prosperity for the tiller of the soil.

Farmers Directly Concerned.

"Farmers in Pennsylvania are prosperous to a greater degree than ever before, and they do not have to send their products to New York or other states, but they have a home market made up of the hundreds of thousands of citizens engaged in industrial enterprises in their very midst. They have a vital interest in the continuance of Republican administration of affairs in the state and nation which has developed these industries and brought about this condition. There is a healthier tone manifested in all business interests throughout the United States and the temporary stagnation is about over. Mills are starting up, and thousands who were idle are going to work. The country is settling down to normal conditions. After a period of unexampled prosperity, which was followed by a temporary cessation of business, there is now a resumption of trade, a revival of industrial activities and an assurance that with the continuance of Republican rule the country will expand in wealth and power in every direction.

"Pennsylvania will blaze the way in November in a national movement that will mean greater happiness for all of the American people during the next four years."

THE PEOPLE DO AND WILL RULE

(From Sherman's Speech of Acceptance)

"Shall the people rule ?" is declared by the Democratic platform and candidate to be "the overshadowing issue now under discussion." It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule, surely the people have ruled; surely the people do rule. No party rules. The party commissioned by the people, is simply the instrument to execute the people's will, and from that party which does not obey their expressed will, or which lacks the wisdom to lead successfully, the people will withdraw their commission.

For half a century, with but two exceptio s, the people have commissioned the Republican party to administer the national government commissioned it because its declare d drinciples appealed to their best judgement; commissioned it because the common sense of the American people scented danger in Democratic policies. Ours always has been, always must be, a government of the people. That party will after March 4 next, execute old laws and enact new ones as in November it is commissioned by the people to do. That commission will be from an untrammeled American electorate. Shame on the party which, shame on the candidate who insults the American people by suggestion or declaration that a majority of its electorate is venal. The American voter, with rare exception, in casting his ballot is guided by his best judgement, by his desire to conserve his own and the public weal.

WHEN IT IS CALLED HUMBUG

If anyone thing could be more ludicrous than another, it is the spectacle of Judge Parker, candidate four years ago for the plutocratic element of the Democratic party now stumping for the Bryan end of the combination which last time repudiated Parker with scorn and contempt.

Not only this, but the Bryan Democracy is now posing as a poor man's party, the party of the shirtless, one-gallus Democracy; and Parker, attorney at New York for several of the biggest trusts and combinations of the country, plutocrat of plutocrats, is out on the stump for the candidate who is to crush the trusts and bring the poor man into his own.

Yet there are those who wince and whimper and say naughty words, when the game is called humbug.

THE state health department advises people to boil all drinking water to prevent the spread of typhoid fever during the drought. A wise suggestion which should be followed in every city and hamlet in the state.

CLUB MEN WILL RALLY FOR TAFT

Great Gathering Anticipated at State League Convention.

[Special Correspondence.]

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 1.

A mighty host of stalwart young Republicans will assemble here on Wednesday, Sept. 16, to ratify the action of the convention which placed the Taft-Sherman ticket in the field, and to formally inaugurate the campaign in Pennsylvania to be waged by the State League of Republican Clubs.

This will be the twenty-second annual convention of the league, and all indications point to it being the most successful in the history of the organization.

Vice Presidential Candidate Sherman, Senator Boies Penrose, Congressman Nicholas Longworth and John Hays Hammond will be among the principal orators at the mass meeting to be held on the opening night of the convention.

This will be the first convention to be addressed by Senator Penrose for some years, and by reason of the prominent part he is to take in the management of the national campaign his remarks will have special significance.

Prizes For Clubmen.

Robert B. Habgood, president of the State League, has been here and has cordially approved of all of the arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors. Prizes are to be awarded to the clubs sending the largest delegations and for those coming the longest distance.

The league clubs are to take a conspicuous part in the campaign and will co-operate with State Chairman Andrews and the various county committees in arranging for mass meetings and providing the speakers and distributing litrature.

Pennsylvania clubmen have a warm feeling in their hearts for Judge Taft, whose strong character and sturdy patriotism appeal especially to the young men.

First Voters' Club.

Plans are under way for the organization of First Voters' clubs in every school district in Pennsylvania to enlist those who will cast a presidential vote for the first time in the ranks of the militant Republicans in the great national contest.

Reports from every part of the country show that the trend of sentiment among the young men is toward the Republican party and its standard-bearers and that hundreds of thousands of first voters throughout the Union are being enrolled under the Republican banners.

Particular attention is to be given by the State League to the several congressional districts in Pennsylvania which have been classed as doubtful, and in this connection the officers of the league will work in harmony with the national and state committees and the Republican congressional committee in their efforts to get out every Republican vote.

The Democrats are making bold claims in the matter of congressional seats in this state. They now have seven representatives in the house and they are claiming ten.

If the Republican clubmen accomplish half of what they expect in the way of educating the voters and rousing enthusiasm for the Republican nominees, the Democrats will be lucky if they carry three districts in this state in November.

MR. Kern thinks that the vice president should not be a nonenity in the government. Here is a bold attack on all precedent.

SOME of those devastated southern states are pretty strong for cold water, but, of course, they don't care for it in deluge doses.

BRYAN says he will visit only the states that are not sure for him. He will see a great deal of the country on such an extensive tour.

TOURISTS to Yellowstone park now find that highwaymen have joined the hotel keepers of that place in separating the traveler from his wealth.

FOR the next two months the voter will be afflicted with a great many spoken and written words which will have nothing to do with the real issue between the parties or the qualifications of the candidates. The candidates may strike vigorously at each other's political beliefs, and pull to pieces each other's records. Following his leader or his convictions, the voter may assail either party and cry out upon the principals and statesmanship that will, he is sure, bring the country to ruin. This is all in a healthy contest and stimulates discussion of public topics. Let the war go merrily on.

This has been a rather good-natured Presidential campaign so far, and a great majority of the people will be very well pleased to have it continues.

A plan is on foot to depose Abdul Hamid from the office of sultan, which shows that the Young Turks know where to strike the first blow for reform.

THERE are seven candidates for president and seven for the vice presidency. Unless vigilance is exercised some of the notification eloquence is likely to get away.

"SHALL the people rule?" may be the overshadowing issue to to be decided on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November. But the more immediate is, "Will the people chip in"

THE "affinity business" is a little under a cloud at present, but it never did amount to much for any length of time. Let us stick to the good old plan which has brought so much happiness into the world.

FROM all parts of the country Mr. Bryan is getting an answer to his question "Shall the people rule?" It is not the kind of an answer he wants, however, for he is reminded that the people keep on ruling instead of intrusting that job to him.

THE Atlantic City saloon keepers took the wise course in keeping their saloon closed on Sunday. They realized that Governor Fort meant business in his crusade against the lawbreakers. The governor is being highly commended for the stand he has taken and is supported by the best citizens of the state.

THE state constabularly is coming in for praise from various sections. The Shenandoah correspondent of the Pottsville Republican says that "expressions of commendation of the excellent work done by the troopers are heard on all sides." And the Pittsburg Gazette-Times says: "Instead of being a menace to workingmen the force has been a great agency in securing industrial peace, and since the institution of the constabulary the commonwealth has been almost wholly free from the old time collisions which scandalized the community. And now, rather than being considered an experiment which our sister communities should steer clear of our constabulary is looked upon as affording a model for other states to pattern after.

Reckless Auto Driver.

The Lock Haven Democrat of Friday says: An accident of a serious character was barely averted yesterday noon, when an automobile, presumably from Bellefonte containing four persons, two ladies and two gentlemen, attempted to pass a traction engine and water tank on the Cedar run bridge near Furst's store in Lamar township.

H. D. Earon had his engine and tank on the bridge, filling the tank with water from the stream, when the auto came along at a twenty mile clip and attempted to pass but the space was too narrow and with a bump and a crash the auto was brought to a stand still, fortunately without any damage to the occupants or the engine, but not so with the auto, for it had to be hauled to the road side and some repairs made before the party could proceed.

It was fortunate for the autoists that they were not tossed into the stream below and injured.

DROPPING IN MY THROAT

MRS. ELIZABETH H. MARTIN, 332 Bowen Avenue, Chicago, Ill., Chaplain Garfield Circle, writes:

"Peruna has been a blessing to our family for a good many years, as we have all used it off and on for colds and catarrh, and I have given it to all of my children with the best of results.

"I found that a cold left me with catarrh of the head in a very bad form. My head was stopped up, I had frontal headaches, my eyes bothered me, and there was a nasty dropping in my throat which nauseated me and made it impossible many times for me to eat my breakfast.

"As soon as I began to use Peruna I found it relieved me, my head soon cleared up and in a remarkably short time I was rid of catarrh.

"I can, therefore, give my personal experience with your valuable medicine, and am pleased to do so."

People who prefer solid to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which contain the medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

Harvest Home Services.

The annual harvest home services were held in the St. John's Reformed church on Sunday at both morning and evening hours. For this occasion the church had been most beautifully and elaborately decorated with all the season's flowers and all of the bounteous fruits and vegetables which the Lord in his goodness has provided for our sustenance. In the morning the house of worship was filled to its capacity, when the special music and the sermon by te pastor were of the most inspiring nature and truly helpful to all who attended. The decorations, singing and sermon were all very typical of the bounteous crops and harvest with which our people have been blessed.

The service was continued in the evening with a specially prepared song and praise service, which elicited many words of appreciation. After the service many persons who had attended service in their own churches called to see the decorations.

This morning all the fruits and vegetables, of which there was an endless variety, were donated to the hospital. The offerings for the support of disabled ministers amounted to $28 75.

In the afternoon harvest home services were held in the Reformed church at Zion by the Rev. Schmidt on the same order in which he conducted services here. The offering at Zion amounted to $11.27.

Snow Shoe.

Hudson Frye of Pine Glenn made a business trip to our town on Saturday.

Quite a number of our town folks went to Bigler camp meeting on Sunday and all reported having a good time.

Mrs. Geo. B. Uzzle and Miss Rena Uzzle left on Sunday morning for Clearfield. After making a few short calls on friends that they knew they stopped at the Leonard House which is run by Jas. Redding, there they had their dinner and when train time came they returned to Snow Shoe.

The clothing store formerly owned by John Gunsallus & Son is now run by Gunsallus & Burns which is doing quite a business. We wish them success in their business.

Our town was visited last week by the little German band which comes onces a year to see us. Their favorite tune being "Red Wing" which every body likes to hear. They stopped over night with Mr. Uzzle and in the morning they played several tunes for him and then they departed on the 7.30 train for Bellefonte.

Mr. Samuel Holt of Moshannon transacted business in town on Tuesday.

A. C. Thompson, the candy kid of Philipsburg, made a call on Tuesday.

Professor Bowers and family of Mill Hall have moved to our town. He has been elected to teach the high school this winter.

John W. Lias the candy man of Williamsport, called to see us on Tuesday, taking orders for sweet meats. Mr. Lias is quite a joker.

One night last week the dogs started to bark, it was about mid-night, and some of our big sonnies thought the dogs had a wild cat treed and one big tall slim son and some others went down and called Mr. Crandell up out of his sleep, Jerry put on his attire and shouldered his gun and started for the park. He did'ent find any wild cats or dogs. I guess the dogs had taken some of Barker's horse and cattle powders which caused barking fever, Waxey returned home growling to himself. I don't blame Crandell.

Levy Fye transacted business in town one day last week. He spoke a few speaks to Peggy on the corner.

Wm. R. Quick the young contractor of Milesburg is doing quite a business in this place, on last Saturday he moved the old freight house formerly the P. R. R. company's which is now owned and occupied by T. B. Buddinger as a storage house. We will now tell you how this building, 26x40, was moved from one foundation to the other. The building being raised by jacks and under it was placed rollers and then from the foundation was placed three 8x10x20 timber sticks one end resting on foundation and the other end on the car which was placed on main track and by the assistance of Jerry Cofer and his strong team of horses the building was moved from its old foundation on to the cars and thence it was hauled to its new foundation back of T. B. Budingers store where it will be used by Mr. Budinger for storage house. We are not yet through with Mr. Quick. He has also three houses to build for Kelley Bros. at Cherry Run mines. Each house is 16x20 with 12x12 kitchens, and he has also some repair work to do for Dr. Young on the Hazel property which will be weatherboarded and cornished and new porches and back kitchen, also some repair work to do at Scotch town for the Doc which will keep Mr. Quick busy for awhile. Doc is on to his job and so is Quick.

Smullton.

R. Lyman Emerick a student of the Academy of Forestry has resumed his studies at school.

Quite a number of our people attended the campmeeting at Booneville, all reported a good time.

C. H. Bierley is at present harvesting a fine crop of peaches.

Joseph Beckenbaugh and son left on Wednesday for Port Royal, Franklin Co. Pa. where the gentleman is looking after his interests.

J. A. Kline our genial Miller was compelled to put an engine to his mill in order to fill his many orders for flour and feed

The rising generation participated in an old fashioned corn roast one night last week. The usual pains and aches were predominant the next few days, 1½ bushels being consumed by the party.

Important Postoffice Changes.

Mr. V Shoneberger, United States Postoffice Inspector, has spent the past two weeks in Bellefonte and vicinity, inspecting the rural route service between Bellefonte, Zion and State College, and has sent to the Department a recommendation for a new rural route from Bellefonte which will extend from that office Southwest over the road leading from the Valentine furnace to Centre Furnace, past Frank Musser, Charles Wetzel, Wm. Fishburne, David Rhinesmith and others, to the State College pike, where it will pass over State College Route No. 3 to Centre Furnace, from there to Rock Creamery, and thence down Spring Creek to near the wooden bridge; and from thence east by way of David Rhinesmith's to the State College Pike past John Rishel's down to the Lewistown Pike and back by way of Axemann.

This route practically embraces Route No. 3, of State College, which will be abandoned, except the upper portion which will be served by routes 1 and 2 from the College. It will form one of the best routes in the county and the people on it, who have so long lamented for service will no doubt be gratified to learn of this important change, which covers not only an important but much deserved district and will take effect in 60 days.

Another change will go into effect on Monday, September 7th, which will be the closing of the Bellefonte postoffice at 7 p. m., instead of at 8 o'clock as heretofore. This will not interfere with either the city delivery or the train service as all mail for the 8:16 p. m., train will be forwarded if its dropped into the box in the front part of the office before 8 o'clock.

Please take notice of this change and govern yourself accordingly.

It Took 14 Innings.

On Tuesday afternoon the Bellefonte fans had an opportunity of witnessing one of the fastest games of ball that has ever been played at the Athletic park. The contest was between Snow Shoe and Howard, two of the rivals of the Centre and Clinton league. These teams have one game yet to play in the season's schedule, and while it was understood that this was the game postponed it cannot be counted as a league game, being played under protest of Peck's pitching for Howard in the absence of their regular pitcher.

Howard started the game by scoring two runs in the first inning, which put the fans in a high pitch of enthusiasm and interest never lacked until the winning run was scored. Snow Shoe did not score until the sixth, when they got in one run on a fielding error. By good and timely hitting in the ninth Snow Shoe made their second run, tieing the score. For five innings the teams played professional ball, and in the fourteenth Snow Shoe scored the winning run. During these last five innings there were several star plays on both sides and the game was filled with features seldom seen in amateur base ball. The running catches and infield work elicited much comment from the fans. A dispute over a decision arose in the last inning, but the difficulty being settled the game proceeded, resulting in the winning run.

Arrangements are being made for a game with the Williamsport Tri-state team, and it may be played here, although the matter has not been definitely settled. The players were apparently satisfied with the attendance at Tuesday's game, but we are unable to announce at present as to future games.

The Grange Encampment and Fair.

It is only a little more than a week until the opening of the Grange Encampment and Fair, at Centre Hall. Detailed arrangements are well under way, and there are the most promising prospects for the largest and best exhibition had in a number of years. Almost every one of the two hundred tents have been leased for the week; the exhibits of machinery, etc., will be larger than for years; the display of agriculture and horticulture will also be elaborate.

Wednesday and Thursday will be political days, Wednesday having been reserved by the Republican local managers and Thursday by the Democrats. The speakers have not yet been announced, but men of national reputation will speak on both days.

The Encampment and Fair opens Saturday, September 12th, and closes Friday, 18th.

The Farmers Wife

Is very careful about her churn She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. It is not apparent then that if this stomach churn is "sour" it tours all which is put into it? The evil of foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it., but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what what the washing and sun bath do for the churn —absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol. Its ingredients are plainly printed on each bottle-wrapper.

TYPHOID IS TAKING HOLD

Many Towns in the State Threatened With an Epidemic.

MANY CAUSES GIVEN

State Health Department Appealed to and Has Sent Out Men to Help Combat the Disease.

MILK AND WATER BEING INSPECTED

Many calls have come of late to the state department of health for help in the suppression of typhoid fever, which in a number of towns and communities is threatening to take serious epidemic forms. The department is sending its men in answer to the information it receives, to help combat the disease.

Inspectors have been ordered to make an examination into the milk supply of a portion of Reading, because of the prevalence of typhoid in that city. Over 40 cases have been reported.

Investigations into the conditions at Spring City and Royersford are being pushed, more than 100 cases being reported there.

In Bethlehem and Wilkes-Barre many typhoid cases demand attention, and the diseases has a strong hold in the Northampton county jail, at Easton.

The department has decided that the time has arrived for Swarthmore to stop draining raw sewage into the Delaware river. Commissioner Dixon Wednesday sent word to Swarthmore authorities to proceed at once with the preparation of plans for disposal of the sewage of the borough. The creek into which Swarthmore drains empties into the Delaware river a short distance above the intake of the Chester water works.

Altoona is considerably alarmed over the number of cases of fever in that city and new cases are being reported to the health authorities almost daily.

Cannonsburg has thirty-seven cases and on account of the condition of the water with which the town is supplied a further outbreak is feared.

Six deaths have already resulted from the epidemic which broke out in Hastings, Cambria county several weeks ago.

It is thought that the drouth and low condition of the streams is the cause for so much fever in many places.

Baby Threw Away $3000.

Mrs. Edward McDonough, of East McKeesport went to Pittsburg Friday and collected $3000 on a life insurance policy. She received the money in cash which she placed in a large pocketbook.

Mrs. McDonough was accompanied by her 18 months-old baby and started back home on a street car. The baby became restless after the car left the city and reached for the pocketbook. Mrs. McDonough gave it to the child, and before she grew what was happening the baby had flung the pocketbook out of the window.

It was some time before the car could be stopped, and all efforts to find the pocketbook were then unavailing.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Art Comes High.

"A New York lady," said a Parisian, "once ventured to remonstrate with Paquin because he had charged her $700 for a ball dress.

"'The material,' she said, 'could be bought for $100, and surely the work would be well paid with $50 more.'

"'Madame,' said Paquin, with his grandest air, 'go to your American painter, Sargent, in his little Tite street studio and say to him: "Here is a yard of canvas, value 50 cents, and here are colors, value $1. Paint me a picture with these colors on this canvas, and I will pay you $1.75." What will the painter say? He will say, "Madame, those are no terms for an artist." I say more. I say, if you think my terms too high, pay me nothing and keep the robe. Art does not descend to the littleness of haggling.'"

The Best Way to Starve.

If one feels bound to undertake starvation for a period, it is best, a trained physician tells us, to make the process not quite complete by eating a little at the usual intervals of fasting absolutely for a comparatively long time. This makes freak treatment quite harmless. Physiologists find that as the body is starved fat and sugar disappear first, and then the minor organs are drawn upon to support the brain and heart, continuing until no more material can be spared. Exhaustion is then very near.

Deceivers.

There is an old fellow who lives in a "dry" New England town who has a very poor opinion of New York, to which metropolis he recently made a visit. It may be remarked in passing that the old gentleman is one of the pillars of the church in his native village. Upon his return home he sat for some time upon a sugar barrel at the grocery and then suddenly burst out:

"Them fellers down to New York is as bad as thieves! Cheat your eyeteeth out 'fore you know it!"

"Gosh, Hiram! You don't mean to say you got bunkoed at your age?" the storekeeper demanded, dropping the nail tongs.

"Yes, I did, too!" was the angry reply. "I went to a sody water fountain an' asked the feller for his best sarsyprilla, an' I give him the regular wink."

"Well?" the storekeeper demanded.

"Well, by heck, I got it!" was the disgusted reply.

Sharks and Divers.

Contrary to what is generally supposed, the fully equipped modern diver does not dread sharks in the depths, though there are cases on record where these monsters have bitten savagely at the air pipe, causing a serious leak and almost drowning the man before he could be hauled up. Sharks are, however, notoriously timid, and all the experienced diver has to do to frighten them away is to open one of the air valves in his dress and cause a stream of bubbles to rise up all around him, whereupon the "tiger of the deep" will make off in abject terror. A far more real danger is getting entangled.—St. Nicholas.

A Mixup.

The householder smothered his wrath and descended to the basement.

"Are you the plumber?" he asked of the grimy looking individual who was tinkering with the pipes in the cellar.

"Yes, guv'nor," answered the man.

"Been long in the trade?"

"'Bout a year, guv'nor."

"Ever make mistakes?"

"Bless yer, no, guv'nor!"

"Oh, then, I suppose it's all right! I imagined you had connected up the wrong pipes, for the chandelier in the drawing room is spraying like a fountain, and the bathroom tap's on fire!"—London Answers.

The Wrong Girl.

After a whole year of married bliss a young man named Hahn, living at Volosca, Dalmatia, discovered that he had not married the girl he intended. When he proposed to her he mistook her for her twin sister, who so resembles her that they can scarcely be distinguished, and he did not realize his error until he began calling her by her Christian name instead of by the terms of endearment he had hitherto used.

Overlooked.

"I always distrust your judgment for some reason or other, John."

"Yes, and you have reason to. It serves me right!"

"Why, I cannot remember you ever having done anything to justify such a distrust."

"Have you forgotten that I married you?"—Houston Post.

Explosive.

An ambitious young writer having asked, "What magazine will give me the highest position quickest?" was told, "A powder magazine, if you contribute a fiery article."

There is no frigate like a book to take us lengthes away.—Dickinson.

OPEN SECRETS.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken the many users of his medicines into his full confidence. Thus too he has absolutely and completely removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr Pierce's medicines are now in a class all by themselves--being absolutely and in every sense Non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this booklet it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, and with the use of specially designed chemical apparatus, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in these medicines, as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

Dr. John Fyfe, of Saugatuck, Conn., Editor of the Department of Therapeutics in THE ECLECTIC REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) one of the chief ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription: "A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator and always favors a condition which makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system, cannot fail to be of great usefulness and of the utmost importance to the general practitioner of medicine."

"Helonias more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent."

"The following are among the leading indications for Helonias: Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys: menorrhagia, ("flooding") due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and an anemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensation in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is rich in all the medical properties of Unicorn root, or Helonias.

A Long Dance.

The longest dance on record is probably that of William Kemp, an actor of some celebrity in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. He was a comedian and danced all the way from London to Norwich.

He was attended by a laborer, a servant and an overseer, and it was doubtless a good thing for him that there were no omnibuses or police then, for they would probably have imposed more impediments in the way of his progress than did the country people.

He started with several presents of groats and crooked sixpences for luck, and, laden with these, he danced to Stratford with out rest.

Subsequently he went in for early rising to avoid market people, and, though suffering from a sprain of the hip which he received, he danced it well again, to the delight of the crowd which accompanied him, some 200 in number.

When he reached Norwich he had to dance in and out of the city twice, for his overseer missed him in the crowd and made him do the distance over again to avoid any possibility of error.—London Graphic.

Live Mule, Dead Boar.

An odd hunting adventure recently befell a British officer in India. He was mounted on a fleet mule and was running down a wild boar, intending to lance it, when the animal turned, bit the mule's leg and then fled again. The mule screamed savagely, and in a minute she had deposited the officer on the ground. Then, kicking out vigorously five or six times, as if to see that her legs were all right, she started after the unfortunate pig at lightning speed, with fury in her eyes and vengeance in the crook of her ears. The race was not long, and the wild boar soon realized that he had exasperated a relentless enemy. He was soon winded, and the mule, coming up with him, caught him by the backbone with her teeth, crunched it and threw him to the ground and then, before he could rise, kicked him so viciously that he was a dead boar in less than no time. Then the mule returned to her master and gave utterance to a "heehaw" of triumph.

Family Secrets.

A father complains that his little six-year-old girl is too talkative. He says: The worst of it is when we have visitors she is continually making mistakes of the worst sort, mistakes that tend to rattle the dry bones of the family skeleton in the cupboard. Recently she allowed her tongue to run away with her, as usual, the result of which was that she very much embarrassed both her father and mother, although the guests seemed delighted.

I had a very serious talk with her and impressed upon her, or tried to, that she must not tell any family secret. The next time we had company she was permitted to come to the table only by promising that she wouldn't utter a word.

She behaved beautifully and had nothing to say until the dessert was about to be taken away. Then her lips began to quiver, and finally she burst into tears.

"Why, what's the matter, darling?" her mother asked.

"I—I want some more ice cream, 'cause that isn't a family secret," she wailed between sobs.—London Telegraph.

An Unexpected Burns Lecture.

John Augustus O'Shea used to be in considerable request as a lecturer on his military experiences. Once, at Dumfries, he came upon the platform wearing in his buttonhole a daisy, which he quietly removed and held up.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began, "I hold in my hand a 'wee modest flower' I plucked this evening from the grave of Robert Burns." The audience was interested and became enthralled as the lecturer went on to speak of the national poet. Then, suddenly recollecting that Burns had nothing to do with his subject, he stopped abruptly. "And now," said Mr. O'Shea, "I will proceed to relate my experiences in the war."

But by this time he had thoroughly engaged the sympathies of his listeners, who would not hear of another subject. "Never min' the war, sir," they vociferated; "gie us Robbie Burns!" And he did. This extemporaneous oration afterward became one of the most popular of Mr. O'Shea's lectures.—London Chronicle.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

L. S. Nusbaum, Gatesville, Indiana writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by C. M. Parrish

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

NUMBER ONE.
A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and to give the General Assembly power to establish a separate court in Philadelphia county, with criminal and miscellaneous jurisdiction.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That the following amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same are hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas, shall be vested in one court of common pleas in each of said counties, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of each of the said courts shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in each of said courts may be, by law, increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first Monday of January succeeding its adoption.

Section 2. That article five, section eight, be amended by making an addition thereto so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 8. The said courts in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny respectively shall, from time to time, in turn, detail one or more of their judges to hold the courts of oyer and terminer and the courts of quarter sessions of the peace of said counties, in such manner as may be directed by law: Provided, That in the county of Philadelphia the General Assembly shall have power to establish a separate court, consisting of not more than four judges, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases and in such other matters as may be provided by law.

All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared, that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

How Queen Bess Dined.

The setting out of the dinner of Queen Elizabeth was a ceremonious function. First came a gentleman with a rod, followed by a gentleman carrying a tablecloth, which, after they had knelt reverently three times, was spread upon the table. Then came two others, one with a rod, the other with a saltcellar, a plate and bread. They knelt three times, placed the things on the table, knelt again and retired. Next came a lady in waiting, followed by a second. The first lady, dressed in white, after kneeling three times, approached the table and solemnly rubbed the plates with the salt. Then entered twenty-four yeomen of the guard clad in scarlet and each carrying a dish of gold. These dishes were placed upon the table, while the lady taster gave to each of the guards a taste from the dish he had brought in for fear of possible poison. These guards were selected from the tallest and stoutest men in all England. At the close of this ceremony a number of unmarried ladies appeared and with great solemnity lifted the various dishes and carried them to the queen in her private apartments. The queen dined and supped alone, with few attendants, and it was seldom that any one was admitted at this time, and then only at the intercession of some one in power.

Coal Used by Romans.

It is believed by some historians that coal was used by the Romans on the continent and by the Britons on the island before the arrival of Caesar. As early as 1234 Henry III. granted a license to dig coal near Newcastle, but a few years later the use of coal was forbidden in London, the smoke being deemed prejudicial to public health. In 1306 the London gentry petitioned the king against its use, declaring that in spite of his royal order certain malicious persons persisted in burning it. Coals began to be brought from Newcastle to London in 1381, during the reign of Richard II. By the year 1400 coal was commonly burned in London as a fuel, though 200 years later, in the reign of Charles I., its use was far from being general throughout England. Anthracite coal, which, except the diamond, is the purest form of carbon known, was first used by a Connecticut blacksmith named Gore in 1768 and as a domestic fuel by Judge Jesse Fell of Wilkesbarre, Pa., in 1808.

A Fairy Tale Kingdom.

The kingdom of Uganda is a fairy tale. You climb up a railway instead of a beanstalk, and at the end there is a wonderful new world. The scenery is different, the vegetation is different, the climate is different, and, most of all, the people are different from anything elsewhere to be seen in the whole range of Africa. Instead of the breezy uplands we enter a tropical garden. In place of naked painted savages clashing their spears and gibbering in chorus to their tribal chiefs a complete and elaborate polity is presented. Under a dynastic king, a parliament and a powerful feudal system an amiable, clothed, polite and intelligent race dwell together in an organized monarchy upon the rich domain between the Victoria and Albert lakes.—Winston Churchill, M. P., in Strand Magazine.

A Promise Unfulfilled.

O. Henry, the well known story writer, once promised the editor of a magazine that he would deliver a short story to him on the following Monday. Several Mondays passed, but the muse was refractory, and the story was not forthcoming. At last the wrathful editor wrote this note:

My Dear O. Henry—If I do not receive that story from you by 12 o'clock today I am going to put on my heaviest soled shoes, come down to your house and kick you downstairs. I always keep my promises.

Whereupon O. Henry sat down and wrote this characteristic reply:

Dear Sir—I, too, would keep my promises if I could fulfill them with my feet.

A Defect.

A little girl was playing with a girl friend of her own age on the porch of her home. An elderly gentleman, her mother's father, and an elderly lady, her father's mother, were sitting on the porch talking pleasantly with each other. The little girl had often wished her grandparents were of the same name, like other children's grandparents. Presently the little guest remarked, "What a nice grandmother and grandfather you have!"

"Oh, yes," she said, with a sigh, "but they don't match."

An Explanation.

"How long has this restaurant been open?" asked the would be diner.

"Two years," said the proprietor.

"I am sorry I did not know it," said the guest. "I should be better off if I had come here then."

"Yes?" smiled the proprietor, very much pleased. "How is that?"

"I should probably have been served by this time if I had," said the guest, and the entente cordiale vanished.—Harper's Weekly.

Only a Mask.

Many are being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation, best subserved by this great medicine which we know, "builds up the whole system."

Mrs. Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says: I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right."

—On account of the low water in the streams E. B. McMullen has W. A. Guiswite with his gasoline engine to run his roller flour mills on East Main street. —The weather man was very favorable to the picnics and family reunions during the month of August, but there are yet some things growing that could stand a little moisture. —The New York Central railroad passenger station at Jersey Shore was entered by burglars Friday night, but they failed to get anything of value. From the evidence left in their trail they are believed to have been amateurs. The cash and other drawers were pried open, but the station master had taken the precaution to remove all of the cash. A grip belonging to an agent of Cole Brothers' circus, which was showing in the town was taken and cut open, but no money was found in it and it was left in the station.

—Henry Lytle, a prominent business man of Shamokin, invited friends to his hencoop Saturday, where they saw a Plymouth Rock hen nursing four kittens. Four days ago the kittens were born in the yard, and their mother grew neglectful in caring for them. The hen covered the brood the night of their birth to keep them warm, since which time they have stayed close to her shelting wings. The hen will not allow the kittens' mother to have anything to do with them, and the old cat does not appear discontented, but sits for hours at a time on a fence rail watching the hen and kittens.

—A meeting of the executive committee of the Centre and Clinton league was held at Mill Hall Monday afternoon to consider some matters of importance. Among the things considered was an appeal from the Howard team to have restored to their credit four games which President Reading had decided against them and given to the teams which opposed Howard at the time the games were played. It was decided that these games should be restored to Howard and that the team be given its right place in the standing of the clubs. Beech Creek also asked for the reinstatement of Hall who had been ruled out at the last meeting and Peck who had been suspended from Mill Hall. Favorable action was also taken on this matter and these players will again be allowed to play with the team, Peck having been transferred from Mill Hall to Beech Creek.

An Expensive Road.

What is probably the most expensive piece of railroad engineering work in the county has just been completed on the new Franklin & Clearfield railroad in Clarion county.

In one mile there are two tunnels, one 2,160 feet long and the other 1,721; a mammoth concrete arch and a long concrete bridge. The mile of construction cost $2,500,000.

The line is being built as a cut-off on the Lake Shore system between New York and Chicago. It extends from Polk, in Venango county, through Clarion and Jefferson counties to Clearfield, connecting with the N. Y. C. at that place. It is said traffic will be opened on the new line December 1.

The Veterans Picnic.

On account of the Centre County Veterans picnic which will be held at the fair grounds on September 12, the Bellefonte Central railroad will make special reduction in rates, which will be 50 cents from Pine Grove Mills and State College. Children under 12 years of age 25 cents. A special train will leave Bellefonte at 5 p. m. for Pine Grove Mills. This very low rate ought to be an inducement to bring a very large number to the county capital and swell the crowd for the boys in blue.
